Dear George,
Greetings. May this note find you well. It is a beautiful afternoon and the men here are doing their best. Spoke with one of our orderlies who will be able to walk our rec yard tomorrow.

It will be great to have you back - and hopefully soon! I miss the old routine. Thank you for your care of the men here. The and inspiration that you give us is unique. If life is so much drama then we may think of our lives as a story. Obvious, and tipping towards cliché, but again you help us leave this place but for a while and when we return we feel much better. "We were tired and we wanted to go home."

Praying an Ave for you today.

Truly,
Joshua
